PRESS INQUIRIES

We hope you consider doing a story about this dynamic event. The organizers of Phoenix Rising hail from various parts of the world, and are happy to speak with members of the media by e-mail, by phone or in person depending on location. High-resolution publicity photos of the organizers and New Orleans' French Quarter are available upon request. Working media are invited to attend Phoenix Rising, though photography may be limited in a few of the formal programming sessions. Press passes issued by our staff will be required for admittance to all Phoenix Rising events.
